the following startling information, resulting, he says, from an interview with a high personage whom he cannot name at present:

"According to this personage negotiations have been in progress for several months between the Emperor of Austria and the Vatican which may lead to a cession of the troublesome province of Trieste to the Holy Father as a place of residence. The offer has been actually made, and only an answer from the Vatican is awaited."

At the Foreign Office and at the nunciature I can learn nothing, but I have reason to think that this startling statement is not without foundation. Of course, however, the consent of the Reichsrath would have to be obtained to such a cession.

NEW YORK, March 31st.

A peculiar and laughable case has just ended in the United States court now in session in Utica. Paul James Gregory was on trial, charged with using the United States mails for fraudulent purposes. He had advertised a prescription that would win any one's love.

A lawyer in Pottsville, Pa., wrote for directions, and received in reply a letter in which was the following passage: "By following my instructions you can gain a woman's love as readily in church or on the street as by a long courtship. If the person is your bitter enemy you can operate my treatment with equal success as if she were your best friend, and win her undying love. Either sex can follow out with success my lessons."

Gregory had received thousands of letters from all over the country. A lady from Boston writes: "I have longed to be loved for twenty years, but as yet cannot find the secret. I would give anything if I could get a man to love me."

A Wyoming woman from New Orleans says: "I am eighty years old and am passionately in love with George Francis Train. Tell me how I am to win him?"

From California comes a cry: "I want some one, I don't care who he is, to love. I am red haired and live on a California farm. Send the secret by telegraph, C. O. D."

The following was received from a Utica woman: "I find after many years of reflection that I want to gain the love of a nice, clean old man. I am 42 years old, a widow, and have my eye on a wealthy old bachelor. The quicker you send me the secret of love-the-better, for I am burning with a desire to again enter the married state. If your secret is successful you will receive $1000; if not, then I am lost. Delay not, for I hourly expect your message."

The young Vassar girl says: "I am a young student and do not know what love is. I am willing to make it a study. I want your aid and assistance."

LONDON, April 1st.

The Nottingham spring handicap was won by Jereel.

Colonel Hughes-Hallett has decided to apply for a divorce from his wife, formerly Miss Emily Schauberg of Philadelphia. The proceedings will be based on Mrs. Hallett's alleged misconduct with John Chando, the solicitor. Colonel Hallett shows papers and the affidavits of a detective whom he employed as a spy.

The latter swears that in many vital points Mrs. Hallett's breach of the marriage contract entitles her husband to a legal separation or even divorce, and a third of her income. Hallett confronted his wife with the butler's affidavit and a terrific row took place. Mrs. Hallett packed her trunks and left for the Continent. The case will soon come before the public.

A scene occurred in the Strand this afternoon. Viscount Hinton, son and heir of Earl Paulet, who has made himself notorious by playing the part of a clown in pantomimes, and who has also undergone imprisonment for robbery, for grinding an organ accompanied by his wife. An aristocratic looking gentleman approached them, and endeavored to persuade the erratic Viscount to desist, offering him a clerkship on the Stock Exchange.

The offer was loudly declined in the presence of some 500 people. Hinton then became very excited, and swore that he would never alter his course of life until his father dies. During this exhibition Lady Hinton took around the hat to collect coppers, and the goodnatured gentleman retired amid the jeers of the crowd.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg says that the Car has been attacked by sudden illness. The suicide who left the letter was a naval officer who belonged to an aristocratic family. The matter has been hushed up.

NEW YORK, April 1st.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 2nd.

In consequence of the discovery of a conspiracy among students of the university here, it and the Institution of Technology have been closed by the authorities.

Count Dellanoff, the Minister of Public Instruction, has refused to receive the petition recently prepared by the students of the university asking for a reduction of entrance fees, the unrestricted admission of news and the equality of male and female students.

Three hundred excited university students assembled to-day, intending to march to the Ministry of Public Instruction, but the police intervened and arrested 175 of them.

Some 300 students of the Technological Institute and many pupils of the School of Forestry and the Academy of Medicine have been arrested for taking part in seditious meetings.

At Moscow fifteen students have been arrested and will be tried on a charge of being political revolutionaries. Forty-two have been expelled from the university. Forty-four have been subjected to minor punishments, and the remainder will be released. The disorder is considered a sign of revolutionary plans in connection with the agitation in foreign countries regarding the treatment of political prisoners in Siberia. It is not thought that the movement has the slightest prospect of success. Sixty-seven students at Charkoff University have been arrested and eleven expelled.

ZANZIBAR, April 2nd.

Emin Pasha has finally accepted the proposals made to him by Major Wissmann, and has entered the German service. He will leave Bagamoyo in the middle of April for Victoria Nyansa, accompanied by a large caravan and 200 Sudanese troops.

A proclamation has been circulated signed "Emin," addressed to the Arab populace. In it the author vehemently and absolutely claims being concerned in any way whatever with Stanley and the English in the recent civil action against Tippoo Tib. The Arabs are amused.

NEW YORK, April 2nd.

A cable special from London to the Telegraph says: Great exertions are being made to cover up the speculations in the Commissionary Department of the Admiralty, and the effects will probably be successful. That Jack's rations have been systematically stolen, adulterated and replaced by food of the most inferior quality touches one of the tenderest points of the English mind, but would appear, unfortunately, that the parties concerned in the inquiry are of too high a position to be publicly dealt with, and in all probability they will simply be dropped from office at convenient intervals.

ZANZIBAR, April 3rd.

Emin Pasha accuses the British Consul of falsely describing him as the plaintiff in Tippoo's case, the real plaintiff being Stanley. Emin appears mistaken in this, the real plaintiff being the Emin Relief Committee. The general belief is that politicians are making a capital of Emin. Stanley cables: "I accept Emin's action as proof that he has recovered from his accident. I wish him bon voyage. The gospel of enterprise is spreading."

VIENNA, April 3rd.

A telegram from Berlin announces the publication of a pamphlet entitled "He Goes: What Now?" It is reported that Emperor William himself is the author of the pamphlet. In any case it betrays an intimate knowledge of affairs. It states that a secret society, including among its members the Emperor's Captain and General Duvernoy, Minister of War, proposes to renounce the democratic parties, alienated by Bismarck, and that the Emperor has adopted the social theories of La Sille and Taine. It compares him to Savonarola and Constantine, and says he has taken the new social doctrine into his own hands to save the tottering thrones of Europe. The pamphlet has caused a sensation.

Advices from St. Petersburg reaffirm the reports of the serious condition of affairs in Russia. The Car is suffering from nervous fever. The scheme for the Russification of Finland is received with extreme disfavor in that country. Trouble is certain to follow.

The students of the St. Petersburg University attacked General Grosser, the chief of the St. Petersburg police. He was thrown to the floor and kicked by his assailants. The students declare that the agitation was solely on account of educational matters. In proof of this they assembled and sang "God Preserve the Car." The Car was greatly incensed because of the disturbances, and has signified his intention of closing all the higher public educational establishments for a year. It is feared, however, that a year's idleness will foster the growth of disaffection.

CHICAGO, April 4th.

The Times New York special says: The startling information that the United States Government has been robbed of $1,000,000 through the importation of gloves upon which no duty has been paid caused vast excitement among Custom-house officials to-day. The information came in cablegram from United States Consul Dederick at Leipzig.

The frauds are said to refer to enormous importations of gloves said to come from Germany which the merchants of New York and other cities manage to smuggle through without the payment of duties.

DRESDEN, April 4th.

Court circles are enjoying a scandal in the little principality of Schwarzenburg-Sondershausen. Prince Leopold, brother of the reigning sovereign, Prince Charles, has removed all his things from the palace, where he has been living for years, to an hotel. His two brothers, who are Prussian generals and aged respectively 68 and 58 years, have been great chums, their intimacy even going so far as to include the keeping of a small hare on equal shares of the expenses.

Prince Charles, although married, is childless. Prince Leopold being a bachelor, it was recently decided, for reasons of state, that he had better marry; so two or three Sundays ago, the two princes talked matters over while at supper in the Casino Club at Sondershausen. Prince Leopold demanded that

In case of his marriage his allowance of $5000 per annum should be increased. The elder Prince did not take kindly to the proposition, and said that if Leopold could not afford to support a princess as his wife he should try to marry a rich girl of lesser rank. This offended Prince Leopold and he left the club abruptly. He was on his way home to the castle when he was overtaken by Prince Charles, who sincerely repeated his advice. Prince Leopold viciously turned on his brother, bit him in the face, and a fist fight then ensued between the brothers, who were both in multi. The sentries who were pacing the road to the castle did not dare interfere, but some officers arrived opportunely, and they, by shielding the reigning Prince with their bodies, succeeded in lulling the storm.
